ABOUT RIMBAULT PROJECTS - 2

ABOUT OUR CEO

Peter Rimbault has become well-established in the industry, through years of active project development, management and all aspects of construction. The information on this site substantiates the fact that he has successfully undertaken and concluded many major development projects and undertakings. In addition to the various enterprises which he has founded, owned and personally operated, Peter is financially astute and also well-versed at not only participating in projects in his private capacity, but also in mutually beneficial joint ventures, partnerships, as high-risk shareholder or investor, at various board membership, directorship and contractual management levels and in a sub-contractual capacity to financial institutions. His uninterrupted commitment to the industry has spanned the past 35 years.

WHAT WE OFFER

Total commitment from conception to completion.

From inception, we establish all the conditions conducive to successful project outcomes.

This entails planning and executing infrastructure, sourcing, appointing and monitoring Consultants and Contractors, implementation of designs, procedures, budgets and communications, administration, procurement, tenders, submissions and approvals, correct compliance standards, management of the Construction process and quality standards, roll-out/close-out procedures, etc...

There is no limit to our service levels, nor the locations at which we can tender services and tailor-made solutions to our clients.

We have operated throughout South Africa and managed offshore projects over the past few years and are confident that this trend will continue...
